

WHERE IT IS DONE.

HE works and school are situated on the shores of Lake Windermere, amid glorious scenery. ¶ The Lake is nearly 12 miles long and $1\frac{1}{4}$ miles across at the widest place. Eight square miles of perfect flying ground, with possible landing on any part! Think of doing straights 10 miles long. You can really get used to being in the air during one of them, whereas at ordinary aerodromes you are no sooner up than you have to bother about getting down again. You have time to think up here, and there is no need to get flustered. ¶ Moreover you are learning to fly with the maximum of safety; the personal risk is practically negligible. ¶ We have made arrangements for students to obtain accommodation at a first class hotel at reduced rates, but those desiring either cheaper or more luxurious accommodation can find it in the immediate neighbourhood. ¶ There is ample recreation to be had, including golf, tennis, fishing, shooting, climbing, skiing, yachting. ¶ In fact your period of tuition up here has every prospect of developing into a delightful holiday the while you become master of a lucrative profession. ❦
